UARANTINE ALPHABET documents found domestic letterforms during my 2020 quarantine.

nine sets of alphabets were conceived through the photographing, abstracting, and tracing of objects, surfaces, and textures found in the home space in an intuitive and improvisational manner.

all photographs and alphabets were compiled into two publications (QUARATINE ALPHABET: A–M, QUARANTINE ALPHABET: N–Z) as well as nine posters, each showcasing one set of alphabet. both items can be downloaded from D-I-Y.WEBSITE.

this publication is first part of the 2nd issue of D.I.Y (DOES IT INTEREST YOU), an independent research and publishing project by QIANG JOHN WANG. the typeface used throughout this issue is ARIAL.
